

DO YOU WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT CANCER MANAGEMENT?

The Education Program in Cancer Care (EPICC) will be available soon as a free online resource, providing medical practitioners in rural and remote areas with access to cancer care education.

EPICC focuses on the following areas of cancer management:

- General principles of cancer care
- Side effects of cancer treatment and symptom management
- Oncologic emergencies
- Psychosocial care
- Follow up

We would value your participation in the piloting of EPICC at the 10th National Rural Health Alliance Conference and the program is also available for review by individual medical practitioners. Please contact Ms Kevin Comlossy, EPICC Project Manager on kcomlossy@moga.org.au or 02 9256 9656 to register your interest in the program.

EPICC is funded by the Australian Government through Cancer Australia and has been developed by a multidisciplinary group of medical practitioners led by the Medical Oncology Group of Australia.

The full program will be available online from mid-2009.
